M. M. MURDOCK, Editor.
WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 5, 1885.
WHY DICK AND NOT DYER.

A large number are unable to figure out why R. L. Walker was suspended and not Dyer—why the latter was not named and not the former. The reason is plain enough when one is pointed out. Registered when he gave bond to any amount worth nothing and the Democratic brethren are not strong on bonds. So the recorder who handles all the money and who are Republicans are left in office. The only exception in Kansas is that if Booth at Larned, who resigned April 21, to take effect July 1st, and whose successor was appointed in June, early, but who has not taken possession of the office. No doubt he can get the bonds, easy enough, of course, and only he, but he hasn't got them yet. He is a good fellow too, ran for congress against Judge Peter's last fall, but like the great majority of Democratic office seekers he seemed better on the yamp than on bonds.

Democrats are great abolitionists and patriots but Cleveland's administration have got just enough sense to know that too many of them are awful hungry and that in tried and trusted Republican hands the money has a better show to get into the treasury. This is why Walker, and not Dyer, was selected for removal, and why all the registers of all the western states have been removed, and no longer the state bell days when Democratic stealings and Democratic blunders and Democratic intrigues ruined the credit of the country, sending United States bonds away below par with twelve percent interest guaranteed, finally resulting in disruption and rebellion.

At another land office in Kansas a desperate effort is being made to remove the register for Kansas, and to put it in the hands of the receiver at the same office has been ordered to remove the register.

A little package of money containing over a hundred and odd dollars is going from one treasury office to another country office and Cleveland has been a great success in the removal of the register.

These conclusions will hardly meet with a hearty endorsement upon the part of the average Democrat but we challenge them to-day or to-morrow the facts upon which the conclusions are based.

THE M. E. COLLEGE.
The Wichita Courier says the Eagle manifests over-anxiety and bitter disappointment with reference to the Methodist college business. In answer to this foolish charge we desire to say only that if the Courier has failed to properly diagnose the case, the Courier states what it thinks are the facts and asks us to publish them, as follows:

The board of M. E. college trustees closed a three days meeting in this city Thursday and returned to their homes. It was the most important and satisfactory they have yet held. The warranty deed to the two beautiful and valuable tracts of land, formerly owned by the College Hill Farm company and the Highland Park town company and the twenty thousand dollar subscription of these companies were accepted and the deeds placed on record. Various plans were examined and discussed, and the board adjourned to meet August 19th, to give the court records time to mature and complete their bids, when the contract for the building will be closed and the work of construction commenced. In the meantime several model college buildings will be visited and carefully studied by a committee from the trustees. The board of trustees, in their judgment, as to the very best plans. The trustees are availing themselves of the results of a plan and family plan, and the board of trustees, in their judgment, as to the very best plans. The trustees are availing themselves of the results of a plan and family plan, and the board of trustees, in their judgment, as to the very best plans.

The Washington correspondent of the Independent Journal writes that people are gradually coming to understand Secretary Whitney's purpose in crushing out John R. Smith, and taking the bread out of the mouths of thousands of men, women and children. His little game is a very big and far-reaching one. It means nothing less than the crushing out of all private yards like R. Smith's, and the building of our future coverts at one blow.

HARPER.
Harper, Kan., Aug. 4, '85.
To the Editor of the Eagle.
Neglect on the part of your correspondent and not lack of news has caused the absence of Harper items. The county normal institution opened this morning with a large attendance. Prof. F. C. Rauer, principal of the Anthony schools, confederate, Miss Bertha Leichardt, of Ft. Scott, as assistant. The normal promises to be decidedly the best ever held in this county.

A number of fine residences are under way in the city. Nine business houses, averaging 25x100, of stone and brick, are nearing completion. Both the school buildings are receiving additions, which when completed will make fine school rooms. It is probable however that other rooms will have to be rented outside.

The interest in the judgeship for this judicial district is not very great, though the political wire-pullers are at work. Judge Barkin, of Atchua, is talked of in this county as a good compromise man. The judge is said to be a very popular man in this county.

Rev. A. B. Chapin, of the Baptist church is spending a few weeks vacation exploring the southwestern portion of the state and we venture to gain more information and have a better time, despite the hot weather than he had gone to some fashionable watering place.

So far as we know the people of Harper were well pleased with the Eagle's treatment of the Indian question, in fact we relied almost wholly on the Eagle for reliable information.

A VETERAN RAILROAD ENGINEER RELATES A LITTLE EXPERIENCE.

A strange circumstance on a stormy night—Engineer's tale to handle now—A few past times.

SHARON, Aug. 4.

One of the many new places that have come into existence and to have caused the settlement of southwest Kansas, is Sharon, Barber county. It is nicely located, almost in the center of the beautiful and extremely fertile valley from which the town takes its name. Sharon valley is about twenty miles in length and about fifteen in width, with a soil, most of which is rich and capable of producing immense crops of corn, oats, wheat and millet, besides a great variety of fruits and vegetables. As an evidence of the wonderful richness of this section, there are many fields of corn in this valley that will make from sixty to seventy bushels to the acre, and we have seen millet that measured five feet from the ground up to the country.

The country is now heavily settled and not more than one-sixth is under cultivation; most of which is under cultivation. There are first rate ranches here for men of small capital, as land is very reasonable. The cause of this is that many of the claim-holders simply took the land to sell it for what it would bring, after they had proved up. Most of these parties are compelled to do this, as they have no means to go into farming, while a great many, who are not so well off, and will sell at the first opportunity.

Dr. F. W. Davis, the first settler here, filed on the present site of Sharon in November, 1883, and the town was laid off the following February. About this time Mr. S. H. Hinton, the postmaster, moved what was then called Sharon postoffice to the new town. Its growth however, was slow, until last winter, since that time it has made wonderful progress. New stores, hotels and dwellings going up as fast as hands could be obtained to do the work.

The latest improvement made by the town company is a very large handsome hotel building, 50,800 feet two stories high. This building would be a credit to a town five times the size of Sharon, and here is now an opening for some reliable hotel man to go into business.

The Southern Kansas road from Atchua west, passes through the town, and as the company has a large force at work between the two places, it is expected that the locomotive will be heard whistling down the tracks to this place before the first of October.

The following is a list of the different lines of trade as now represented here: Groceries, Messengers, Dorman & Mercer, and Waggon and Sledge; dry goods and groceries, O. G. Ross and Geo. Allen; drugs, Dr. L. J. Brown, T. W. Davis and Dr. H. A. Davis; hardware, S. J. Cathart and J. E. Winters; boots, Henton House, S. H. Henton, proprietor, Stone's hotel, J. K. Stone, proprietor, and the Johnson house, by J. H. Johnson; meat market, Tracy & Quinn; blacksmiths, Say & Rice; butchers, Salsbury and Clark & Freeman; flour and feed, Kinman and Peterson; and O. E. Davis and Whitaker & Garrison; Badger Lumber company, Frank Williams manager; millinery, Miss P. M. Vanslyke.

This is also an excellent point for a running factory and considerable work has been done to get one established. A good bank is also very much needed and it would find plenty of business from the start.

HAZLETON.

HAZLETON, Kan., Aug. 3, '85.
To the Editor of the Daily Eagle.
Hazleton's building boom still continues. Since March 1st more than thirty new buildings have been built, six of them business houses, and all occupied.

Frank S. Verance and Mr. Willis have started in the flour and feed business. They occupy the building formerly occupied by Kimball's meat market, opposite the bank building. Hazleton is building a calaboose. We don't need it, being a law abiding town, but must have it to keep up appearances. Marshal Severance has also procured handcuffs and such other articles as are necessary to his profession. The law must be obeyed here.

A slight rise in the medicine washed the cribbing from under the southern Kansas railway on Friday night last, necessitating the immediate driving of piles across that stream. This will cause a delay of almost a week in running trains to Kiowa.

This section has been visited by heavy rains in the last two or three days. This puts the corn crop out of danger from drought and will also enable the farmers to plow for fall crops. The postoffice and business houses here are draped in mourning in honor of General Grant.

The first regular passenger train was run into Hazleton on Sabbath the 2nd inst.
